

EC400 Pre-Sessional Exam Guidance

21 and 22 September 2026

The guidance contained in this document strictly applies to the EC400 exams and will differ from the guidance for credit-bearing assessments.

Your exam room is listed on page two of this document.

Exam	Please Arrive By	Exam to Finish By
SOFP (Monday 21 Sept)	9:00am	10:45am
DPDE (Monday 21 Sept)	11:15am	13:00pm
PSI (Tuesday 22 Sept)	9:30am	12:00pm

What should I bring to the exam?

- Writing utensils (pen/pencil/eraser)
- Student ID card
- Water

Answer booklets will be provided. You should do any rough work or make preparatory notes in your answer booklet.

What am I not allowed to use for the exam?

- Mobile phones, laptops, smart watches, tablets, other devices
- Calculators

All electronic devices must be turned off completely (not set to silent/vibrate/etc) and placed inside your bag.

For my degree programme, the exam is not compulsory. Do I need to opt in or opt out?

- No. There will be a seat and exam papers/booklets printed for all enrolled students. You do not need to inform the programmes team whether you will sit the exams.

Latecomers will not be awarded extra time to complete the exam. We advise arriving early to the campus area, considering alternate routes and in case of delays/traffic.

Invigilators may not answer questions about exam content. If you believe you have found an error in the exam, please proceed with the question and state any assumptions you have made.

Instructions for MSc Economics students who took EC451 Micro:

The EC451 Micro exam will take place with similar timings to SOFP. You will need to sit the EC451 Micro exam according to the exam room assignments sent to you by email. After sitting EC451 Micro, please change classrooms to sit the DPDE and PSI exams with your EC400 class group.

Instructions for students with Exam Adjustments confirmed by econ.exams.pg@lse.ac.uk:

If you have confirmed your Exam Adjustments with the Economics programmes team, you will receive an email with your individual timetable. All EA students will join the EAs Room at CKK.1.14.

Please remember that exam adjustments confirmed to you by econ.exams.pg are only applicable to the EC400 exams. If you also require adjustments for the summative exams (in Winter/Spring exam periods), you must make sure your adjustments are confirmed through the Disability and Mental Health Office.
