The Fabian Society

The Fabian Society is Britain's oldest political think tank. Founded in 1884, the Society is at the forefront of developing political ideas and public policy on the left

What we stand for

We aim to promote:

- greater equality of power, wealth and opportunity
- the value of collective action and public service
- an accountable, tolerant and active democracy
- citizenship, liberty and human rights
- sustainable development
- multilateral international cooperation

Beatrice Webb, diary entry (21st September,

Sidney has been planning to persuade the other trustees to devote the greater part of the money to encouraging Research and Economic study. His vision is to found, slowly and quietly, a "London School of Economics and Political Science" - a centre not only of lectures on special subjects but an association of students who would be directed and supported in doing original work. Last evening we sat by the fire and jotted down a whole list of subjects which want elucidating - issues of fact which need clearing up. Above all, we want the ordinary citizen to feel that reforming Society is no light matter and must be undertaken by Experts specially trained for the purpose.

“To know the causes of things”

“For the betterment of society”
